SATURDAY SAN MATEO COUNTY DAY AT CALIFORNIA LAND SHOW

SPECIAL EVENTS ARRANGED FOR THRONGS; COUNTY WELL REPRESENTED

Saturday, October 20th, is to be San Mateo Day at the big Land Show. Special events will be arranged for the visitors from this county, and Sam Shortridge has been engaged as speaker for the occasion. Besides the varied features of the numerous exhibits, which are of a highly instructive nature, many novel attractions in the way of movies, free music, military band concerts, music by Hawaiian singers and players, lectures and sideshows will be provided.

The Land Show is recalling the palmy days of the Panama-Pacific Exposition, and rivaling many of the best features of that great event. Not since the gala days of 1915 have the bright lights of Market street revealed so many visitors going merrymaking in the big city by the bay.

San Mateo county is giving evidence in its Land Show exhibit booth of everything it habitually does and accomplishes. The result is a particularly varied display, with almost everything but the county's famous roads in view in one form or another. The good roads, too, are suggested by two panoramas of county scenes, a dozen feet long, set up on an easel-like rustic screen of redwood limbs. This has the place of honor at the center of the big unroofed platform that represents San Mateo county. It is finished like a pergola with the redwood trunks, and divided into sections where the county's products may be displayed. This exhibit has been provided by E. C. Peck for the Land Company.

Artichokes are demonstrated here—naturally, since San Mateo county produces them for miles and miles at a stretch. Housewives will be shown how to cook and serve them and informed as to the difference between a superlative and a merely good artichoke.

Among the leading enterprises of San Mateo county are the Leslie Salt Works, Bessie Boston's Dahlia Farm, San Mateo; Pacific Coast Steel Company, Western Meat Company, American Marble and Mosaic Works, Enterprise Foundry and South San Francisco Land and Improvement Company, South San Francisco; Hillsborough Nurseries, Redwood Highland Bungalows, George H. Irving Company, and artichoke farms at Halfmoon Bay, San Geronio and Pescadero, all of which are exhibiting under the big tent.

Model bungalows, complete little houses that make little girls of doll-house age both envious and ecstatic, suggest what San Mateo county can do in the way of country homes in beautiful grounds.

In one corner there is a large stand where a dahlia exhibit and one of other flowers are shown, while beside it there are cactuses. Butter, oil, lard and other products are displayed in a second corner. The salt industry has an exhibit all in the same summer-house booth.

Nearly every progressive county in the state is splendidly represented in the three main tents, which cover as many acres of space. Producers and consumers have found in this Land Show a community of interest they never felt before. Mr. Cityman and his family are learning what it costs to feed and care for poultry and cattle. They now realize why they sometimes have to pay a nickel for an egg and a dime or more for a quart of milk. But, at the same time, they are studying the values of various foods in terms of calories, protein, fats, sugar and other facts heretofore not considered. As a result, many will buy more intelligently in the future, and they will patronize the producer who is far-sighted enough to advertise in this way.

SWITCHING CASE SET

December 10th is the date set for the hearing of the case before the State Railroad Commission in which the Chamber of Commerce of this city has asked for an equalization of switching distance and rates for the Peninsula which will put the San Francisco side of the bay on a parity with the Oakland side. The case, in which numerous civic, commercial and industrial bodies have intervened and in which the city of San Francisco will employ all its legal power, will be heard before Commissioners Loveland, Edgerton and Devlin.

ROBERTS LOSES.

H. W. Roberts of this city lost a suit brought against him by Miss Grace Duckenfield of San Bruno. The plaintiff sued for quiet title to some of her property in San Bruno.

The main issue of the case, which has been contested in the courts for some time, centered around the recording of a certain homestead, and many legal technicalities were involved.

Joseph J. Bullock appeared for Miss Duckenfield, while Roberts was represented by Louis P. Dunkley.

Good printing done at this office.

SURGEONS ASSEMBLE

Dr. F. S. Dolley left at noon Thursday to attend the Clinical Congress of Surgeons of North America, which will be held at Chicago next week.

The congress is expected to assemble more than 2500 surgeons from all parts of North America in the western metropolis for an interchange of views and a general discussion of the most successful and modern methods of surgery.

Since the beginning of the European war remarkable strides have been made in surgery, and it is in familiarizing the surgeons of America with these advanced methods that the congress will principally interest itself. Dr. Dolley will be gone for two weeks or longer, and will make his headquarters at the La Salle Hotel while in Chicago.

CALL OF THE NAVY LURES JACK MARTIN

Not to be outdone by his brother, Dave, who is stationed at the training camp for army officers, "Jack" Martin enlisted in the naval reserves and is waiting to be called to San Pedro. Dave has been practicing with a rifle preparatory to his opportunity to shoot the Kaiser's mustache off, and now has a sharpshooter's medal. If "Jack" does as well with the 16-inch guns—pity Kaiser Bill.

CHRIS HYNDING DEAD

In a fit of melancholy, Chris Hynding, father of Andrew Hynding of this city, ended his own life at his home in Redwood City.

Shortly after 6 o'clock Sunday evening, William Plumb, his son-in-law, found him in an unconscious condition. Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hynding were immediately communicated with and rushed to the bedside of the dying man at the Red Cross Hospital where he had been removed. After an all-night vigil and constant attendance by Dr. F. S. Dolley, he expired at 5:30 Monday morning.

Since the passing of his daughter, Mrs. William Plumb, nearly a year ago, the deceased had suffered fits of despondency, frequently expressing the belief that life was no longer worth living.

Chris Hynding was formerly a trustee of Redwood City, where he had lived for many years. He was a highly respected member of the community. His property holdings in Redwood, South San Francisco and other Peninsula points are extensive.

The funeral, which was strictly private, was held on Thursday morning from the chapel of the James Crowe Company. Friends of the deceased were permitted to view the remains until 10 o'clock previous to the funeral cortège leaving the chapel.

The deceased is survived by two children, Andrew Hynding of this city and Mrs. Nathan Graves of New York. He was born in Denmark and died in his seventy-third year.

CUNNINGHAM'S CAR STOLEN; RECOVERED

Fred Cunningham's Ford was stolen from in front of the California Land Show on Wednesday evening, but was later recovered by the police of the Potrero station.

A party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham, Miss Beckwith and Mrs. Coleberd, were compelled to return to South City on the street cars when it was discovered that the car had been purloined.

When found at the foot of Eighteenth street in the San Francisco Potrero district, two inner tubes were missing and the tools were strewn about. It is the theory that the thieves were preparing to strip the car when frightened away by the police.

KILLED WHEN CAR UPSETS

August Giebenhian, aged 24, of 940 Guerrero street, San Francisco, died at the Red Cross Hospital from the results of injuries sustained in an automobile accident near the fifth tunnel on the Bay Shore road.

Giebenhian's brother, who was a member of the party, is at the Red Cross Hospital, having had several ribs broken in the accident.

The accident occurred at 3:30 a.m. at the sharp turn in the Bay Shore road which has been the scene of so many accidents. The car was driven by Joseph Lang of the Oak Street Garage, 80 Oak street, San Francisco. Lang escaped from the accident with a bruised ear, notwithstanding that the car turned over three times when it upset at the sharp turn. The victims of the accident were cared for and taken to the hospital by Harry L. McGilvray, San Mateo contractor, who was returning to his home when he saw the wrecked car.

DALY CITY BOARD DISCUSSES ROAD

At the last meeting of the Board of Trustees of Daly City considerable discussion took place relative to the improvement of the old San Bruno road.

John Henderson, president of Mount Olivet Cemetery Association, asked the trustees what they had done regarding the opening of San Bruno avenue. O'Rourke for the street committee reported that it was estimated that the cost would be five or six dollars a front foot, owing to the rock that would have to be removed in grading. The point was raised by Meeks that he regarded the project as very dangerous and that the junction from Mission road would become a "death curve" that he was absolutely opposed to. Moran suggested that a better way would be to continue Irvington street with the proposed San Bruno avenue. This would require quite an outlay, sufficient probably to open several of the greatly needed streets between Vista Grande and Hillcrest, but it would benefit the Crocker Tract and was received with favor, and some scheme is probable whereby it may materialize.

POSTOFFICES TO RETAIN NAMES

There is no intention on the part of San Francisco postal officials to absorb the identity of the San Mateo postoffices which are coming under the direction of the main postoffice of the bay city.

An announcement in a recent issue of the San Mateo News that the San Mateo stations postoffices were to be known by lettered stations is misleading and in error.

Station L at Daly City, which was about six blocks away from the present station, has been abolished and the new postoffice is known as Daly City station.

The designation of the South City postoffice is South San Francisco station, and a station is a regular post-office.

Because the designation by letter causes confusion and delay to the public, Postmaster Charles W. Fay has ordered the San Francisco stations designated by name as well as by letter.

In addition to the main office, ferry, Presidio, Fremont and South San Francisco stations, Station A will be known in future as Steiner; Station B, Customs; Station C, Mission; Station D, Russ; Station E, Townsend; Station G, Eureka; Station H, Hayes; Station J, Haight; Station K, Rialto; Station L, Daly City; Station M, Clement, and Station O, Polk.

WOODMAN LEAVING

Charlie Woodman, who has so efficiently served The Enterprise and South City Printing Company, has severed his connections with them and will leave South City early next week on an extended vacation.

Close confinement, worry and constant application to his duties have gradually undermined his health, and physicians have advised a long rest and change of occupation.

An efficient workman, companionable and good-humored under the difficulties which arise each day in a print shop, he strove earnestly to please and retain the good will of its patrons.

His many friends will miss him. The Enterprise wishes him a speedy return to health and South City.

THIRD CONTINGENT ENTRAINS FOR CAMP LEWIS

USUAL THRONGS BID FAREWELL TO SAN MATEO LIBERTY BOYS ON WEDNESDAY.

The smallness of the third San Mateo county contingent of the Liberty army was no deterrent to the size of the farewell which they received all along the line.

The third draft quota numbered but thirty-four men, and left San Mateo at 9:28 on Wednesday.

Every contingent which has left—and every member of the San Mateo county divisions, although weighed down with the heavy responsibility, leaving their homes, their families, on their way to cantonments and later wherever ordered, give one great striking impression—they do it cheerfully.

They are giving up everything. Their hopes, their ambitions, their lives, perhaps, and still they do it with a smile.

Made Comfortable.

The usual throngs of friends and relatives crowded the railroad stations to witness the step from civilian to soldier.

Before leaving San Mateo various civic associations and the exemption board made special arrangements to make the boys comfortable and saw to it that they were accorded a merited farewell.

Lunches were provided for the men who will have a noonday meal on the train while en route to Sacramento.

Secretary George A. Merrill of the exemption board and a delegation of citizens accompanied the contingent to the ferry building.

D. A. Raybould, captain of the contingent, Lee Ross, Caleb Emlen Scott and Earl Davis were among the prominent young drafted men to leave.

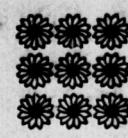

Following is the certified list of the men drafted to form the third contingent:

Frank B. Pheasant
John P. Cullen

Founders' Day Celebrated by Local Woman's Club

PATRIOTIC DECORATIONS ADD TO PLEASURE OF ELABORATE BREAKFAST

With "Liberty" smiling down upon them, forty-two ladies seated themselves at the third annual Breakfast and Founders' Day celebration of the local Woman's Club on Thursday.

Patriotism was the key note of the decorations. "Liberty" was portrayed by a doll, nearly four feet high, garbed as the real goddess to the finest detail. As fitting comrades two smaller dolls dressed in the uniform of Red Cross nurses graced a lower end of the table, while a Red Cross relief dog with all the paraphernalia of his kind, even to the small carrier pack strapped to his side, seemed lifelike enough to immediately leap to give first aid to any one present who might be tempted beyond the bounds of moderation by the sumptuousness and excellence of the spread provided. The military touch was given by a miniature boy in khaki, flanked by the figure of one of Uncle Sammy's boys in navy blue.

Tastily festooned about the walls of the Metropolitan Grill, where the breakfast was held, were large American flags. These were supplemented by screaming eagles perched on shields bearing the national emblem. Red dahlias predominated in the extremely attractive floral decorations, which gave ample evidence of feminine touches and arrangement.

In honor of California, "Grizzlies" (bears, not soldiers), stood guard over the tables, which were tactfully arranged to give the greatest opportunity for conversation.

The breakfast was served at 1 p. m. Upon each lady's arrival she was presented with a large red, white and blue bow, which was worn as a head-dress, and were quite in keeping with the place cards of small American flag shields.

The piece de resistance was a large birthday cake, topped with three candles, commemorative of the third birthday of the organization. Even in this detail the patriotic scheme of decorations was not overlooked, the candles being red, white and blue in color.

ENTERTAINMENT PROVIDED.

The entertainment features of the affair were enthusiastically received by those taking part of spectators. Preceding the breakfast, Mrs. Snyder, Mrs. Dotson, Mrs. C. Coffinberry, Mrs. Stearns, camouflaged in Chinese costumes, gave an excellent rendition of the song, "Hong Kong." The vocal work was delightfully accompanied by Mrs. McSweeney.

After the elaborate breakfast at which, by the way, red, white and blue ice cream formed part of the dessert course, Mrs. Ebey, Miss C. Farrell, Mrs. Doak and Mrs. Nyland presented an uproarious farce, entitled "Switched."

The members then settled down to the more serious business of the assembly. First in order came the election of officers for the ensuing year. The following received the honor places as executives: President, Mrs. Marianne Martin, to succeed herself for the third term; vice-president, Mrs. Annie Woodman; treasurer, Mrs. Bertie Hynd; executive secretary, Mrs. Leora Nyland; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Leonora Fontaine.

Two out-of-town members were present, Mrs. Reuben Smith of Berkeley and Mrs. Brady Wolf of Oakland. The former gave a most interesting and comprehensive outline of the work of the Oakland Red Cross and its many accomplishments. Mrs. E. C. Peck described the efforts of the San Francisco branch, while the Red Cross activities of the local branch were detailed by Mrs. Clifford.

The aims and purposes of the Adelphian Club, recently formed in South City, were described by Mrs. Maynard.

The following were present at the breakfast and celebration: Mrs. Boyer, Mrs. Bates, Mrs. C. Coffinberry, Mrs. W. H. Coffinberry, Mrs. E. Coffinberry, Mrs. H. Clifford, Mrs. Doak, Mrs. Dotson, Mrs. F. S. Dolley, Mrs. James Ditton, Mrs. R. L. Ebey, Mrs. J. Elkerenkotter, Miss Cecilia Farrell, Mrs. R. A. Fontaine, Mrs. E. Holston, Miss M. Kauffmann, Mrs. R. Kleemeyer, Miss Fern Kiessling, Mrs. H. Knothe, Mrs. C. W. King, Mrs. Vera Laederich, Mrs. M. Martin, Mrs. D. H. Martin, Mrs. Maynard, Miss Vera Mulcahy, Mrs. Annie Money, Mrs. Murch, Mrs. M. McSweeney, Mrs. McGraw, Mrs. McGovern, Mrs. E. C. Peck, Mrs. Leora Nyland, Mrs. Stearns, Mrs. Rose Snyder, Mrs. Reuben Smith of Berkeley, Miss Smith, Mrs. A. Woodman, Mrs. Brady Wolfe of Oakland, Mrs. Winterhalter, Mrs. Waeltz, Mrs. Whitehead.

WOMEN MEET TO AID CONSERVATION

STATE DEFENSE COUNCIL WILL MAKE VIGOROUS EFFORT TO INCREASE FOOD SUPPLY.

The San Mateo committee of the National and State Defense Council met in the San Mateo union high school Wednesday afternoon. Food conservation was the subject of discussion. Mrs. Charles Godfrey, chairman of that section, reported on the progress of the "Food Drive," and appointed the following members to assist during the week of October 28th to November 4th, when a systematic effort will be made to have every housewife sign the Hoover food pledge: Mesdames A. A. Rochex, San Mateo; M. Atkins, Burlingame; Fairchild and Helser, Redwood; M. B. Johnson for the coastside, and Mrs. Henry Ward Brown, Colma and the north end of the county.

Mesdames W. B. Shockley of Palo Alto, Mrs. Elliott of Los Altos and Miss Stover of San Mateo were the speakers. They urged the women to conserve sugar so that we may be able to send the necessary amount to France. "You can not expect to substitute and economize without extra work, but you should be willing to do that as your bit to help the government."

Mrs. H. W. Brown told of satisfactory registration of the girls of the county, how the public schools have assisted and how the churches are to help on October 21st.

Mrs. F. Cook, the chairman of the council, spoke of the mobilization of the women who sign the food pledge into a reserve army.

The next meeting will be held on the third Tuesday of November, and the state officers will be present. It will be an all-day meeting, and there will be prominent speakers. Wide publicity is to be given to the event.

HOOVER ASKS WOMEN FOR FOOD PLEDGE

Federal Food Administrator Herbert Hoover asks California to concentrate all energies for the next fortnight upon the food conservation pledge campaign, which ends November 4th. Ralph P. Merritt, federal food administrator for California, has so wired A. C. Greene, who is acting in his place during Merritt's absence. Merritt is in Washington with Hoover.

At Hoover's request all activity for enrolling women in a food conservation army will be postponed until after the pledge battle. The military formation plan has been receiving the enthusiastic adherence of California women, but the urgency of the pledge movement necessitates its postponement. It is believed by those who understand the army formation that it will be a potent force for effective action during the whole duration of the war.

Hoover asks through Merritt that from now on until the last hour of the food pledge campaign, every endeavor be focused upon securing the half million signatures from California. At the food administration headquarters in the First National Bank Building, the voluntary aides of Merritt, both men and women, are lending all their aid and time to the statewide effort.

SALUTE THE FLAG BY HENRY C. BUNNELL

Off with your hat as the flag goes by!
And let the heart have its say;
You're man enough for a tear in your eye
That you will not wipe away.

You're man enough for a thrill that goes
To your very finger-tips;
Ay! the lump just then in your throat
that arose
Spoke more than your parted lips.

Lift up your boy on your shoulder high,
And show him the faded shred—
Those stripes would be red as the sunset sky
If death could have dyed them red.

The old tune thunders through all the air,
And strikes right into the heart;
If ever it calls for you, boy, be there!
Be there, and ready to start.

Off with your hat as the flag goes by!
Uncover the youngster's head!
Teach him to hold it holy and high,
For the sake of its sacred dead.

S. O. S.

M. E. CHURCH BAZAAR

Permission has been cheerfully granted the ladies of the South San Francisco branch of the Red Cross to occupy one of the rooms in the new high school.

The inclement weather makes it imperative that quarters other than the basement of the library be secured, and the room in the high school set apart for the ladies will soon be occupied by them.

Help! help! help! S. O. S. SAVE OUR SOLDIERS, is the cry that is going up. All are urged to attend the Red Cross meetings, which are held on Tuesday and Thursday of each week. There is no expense attached to the Red Cross, as all material is supplied free to the workers.

The bazaar for which the members and friends of the M. E. Church have been so faithfully working for the past few months will be held on Wednesday, October 24th, and Thursday, October 25th, in the Metropolitan Hotel dining-room.

The affair will open at noon Wednesday with the serving of luncheon continuously throughout the afternoon; in the evening ice cream and cake will be served.

A large number of useful and attractive articles will be placed on sale in the various booths.

On the closing night of the bazaar a large, beautifully dressed doll will be auctioned off to the highest bidder.

It is expected that the affair will be well patronized by local people.

THOUSANDS SIGN

Voters in California are going to have an opportunity to vote on the Rominger bill in November, 1918. During the past week thousands of people have signed the initiative petitions of the California Grape Protective Association, not only in the larger cities like San Francisco, Oakland, Alameda, Berkeley, San Diego, San Bernardino, Redlands, Riverside, San Jose, Lodi and Modesto, but in all the leading grape districts of the state.

This week elaborate campaigns for signatures will be launched in Los Angeles, Fresno, Sacramento, Santa Barbara and Bakersfield.

Commenting on the grape growers' campaign, President Swett said:

"Many men have asked me why the Grape Protective Association should continue this movement to close the saloons and shut out whisky, now that the national government no longer allows the manufacture of spirits. The reply is that as far as anyone knows, the government's action in stopping whisky manufacture is only for the period of the war."

There is an ample supply of whisky and spirits in the United States to last for quite a time. Should the war end to-morrow, whisky and other spirits will be made again. If we stopped our campaign we would have it to do all over when peace comes. We most assuredly would lose time and could not get the measure before the people in 1918. Consequently our campaign continues.

"If you are against the saloon and whisky, sign this initiative petition and help us get the requisite number of signatures. Next year when the time to vote arrives, be sure and vote for it.

"We must have nearly 75,000 attested signatures to the petition. We expect to sign at least 125,000 names in the next two months. We will be represented all over California, and we ask the assistance of all believers in true temperance."

Lots of money in raising hogs; only small investment required; our plan will interest you. Address Mrs. O. A. Olsen, General Delivery, San Francisco, Cal.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis, hiking from Allentown, Pa., to San Francisco and return, a distance of 7000 miles, passed through this city Monday on the return lap of their journey.

Davis, who was a sufferer from congestion of the lungs, accompanied by his plucky wife, started from their home town fifty-two days ago, and figure they are six days ahead of their schedule, which provides that they cover an average distance of sixty-five miles a day.

"We are not permitted to beg, borrow, ask a ride or talk politics or national affairs," said Davis. They are permitted to take what is voluntarily offered them, and Davis has figured many unique ways of getting the offer without asking direct.

If they make the return journey in the scheduled time Davis alleges they will win a wager amounting to $2400. He is now in good health as a result of his outdoor life.

BURGE A BARNUM.

Leland Burge of 764 Miller avenue is rivaling "Huckleberry Finn," made famous by Mark Twain as a youthful financier.

Young Burge wanted to help the boys at the front. How to do it was the question.

Happy thought. He gave a circus in the basement of his home and advertised it industriously. The youthful Barnum collected 71 cents, which will go to buy smokes for the soldiers and sailors.

Give Him Gas.

The beautiful young woman interviewed a fortune-teller on the usual subjects.

"Lady," said the clairvoyant, "you will visit foreign lands, and the courts of kings and queens. You will conquer all rivals and marry the man of your choice. He will be tall and dark and aristocratic looking."

"And young?" interrupted the lady. "Yes, and very rich."

The beautiful lady grasped the fortune-teller's hands and pressed them hard.

"Thank you," she said. "Now tell me one thing more. How shall I get rid of my present husband?"—Gas Magazine.

URGES LIBERTY BONDS

For the purpose of equipping with arms, clothing and food our gallant soldiers who have been called to the field; maintaining our navy and our valiant tars upon the high seas; providing the necessary means to pay the wages of our soldiers and sailors and, if the bill now pending in Congress passes, the monthly allowances for the support of their dependent families and to supply them with life insurance; constructing a great fleet of merchant vessels to maintain the line of communication with our brave troops in France, and to keep our commerce afloat upon the high seas in defiance of the German Kaiser and his submarines; creating a great fleet of aeroplanes, which will give complete supremacy in the air to the United States and the brave nations fighting with us against the German military menace; and for other necessary war purposes, there is now offered to the American people a new issue of $3,000,000,000 of bonds, to be known as the second Liberty Loan.

They will be issued in such denominations and upon such terms that every patriotic citizen will have an opportunity to assist the Government by lending his money upon the security of a United States government bond.

No one is asked to donate or give his money to the government but every one is asked to lend his money to the government. The loans will be repaid in full with interest at the rate of 4 per cent per annum. A government bond is the safest investment in the world. It is as good as currency and yet better, because the government bond bears interest and currency does not. No other investment compares with it for safety, ready convertibility into cash, and unquestioned availability as collateral security for loans in any bank in the United States.

PATRIOTIC DUTY.

No more patriotic duty can be performed by those who cannot actually fight upon the field of battle than to furnish the government the necessary money to enable us to give our brave soldiers and sailors all that they require to make them strong for the fight and capable of winning a swift victory over our enemies.

We fight to preserve our democratic institutions and our sovereignty as a nation against the menace of a powerful and ruthless military autocracy headed by the German Kaiser, whose ambition is to dominate the world. We fight also for the noble ideal of universal democracy and liberty, the right of the smallest and weakest nations equally with the most powerful to live and to govern themselves according to the will of their own people. We fight for peace, for that just and lasting peace which agonized and tortured humanity craves and which not the sword nor the bayonet of a military despot but the supremacy of vindicated right alone can restore to a distracted world. To secure these ends W. G. McAdoo, Secretary of the Treasury, appeals to every man and woman who resides upon the soil of free America and enjoys the blessings of her priceless institutions to join the "League of Patriots" by purchasing a Liberty Bond.

TURNED TURTLE.

While driving with his wife, child and baby on Sunday, the machine of John Padgett turned turtle on one of the sharp curves of the Bay Shore road, near the top of the tunnel.

Padgett claims the accident was due to the slippery condition of the road, but it is alleged that the rate of speed at which he was driving did not permit him to safely make the turn.

The baby's arm was broken. Treatment was given at a San Francisco hospital.

Roy Fickett was killed in a collision of two buses on Saturday last. Fickett, while a resident of this city, was employed at the Schaw-Batcher Company Pipe Works, during which time his agreeableness made him many close friends. The remains were sent to Sacramento for cremation.

Labor Should Serve

It is a matter of keen reproach to the ranks of organized labor that strikes and disturbances of all kinds should be rife just at this time when the nation needs that we should be one as we never before have been.

There may be causes a-plenty for strife—in ordinary times and under ordinary conditions. At present, and under the conditions that face this country, it would seem that, while the world is called upon for sacrifices in all the relations of life, labor might consent to bear patiently a few injustices, especially if to remedy those injustices the safety of the country is to be jeopardized. Everything that takes from the perfect unity of this country, militates against the great undertaking that we have entered upon. When the country needs every ounce of its strength, is a poor time to settle labor disputes, especially if the settlement involves contention and strife.

These men simply have not grasped the fact that war changes everything and that this is the greatest war of all time.

Especially have they failed to grasp the fact that a strike which may be legitimate in peace times may now mean that hundreds of innocent soldiers have to die who might otherwise have lived.

Think, for instance, what it means in prolongation of war and actual destruction of human life to hold up for three weeks the construction of warships and aeroplanes, as the San Francisco machinists did.

Think what it means to the men who are defending America in the field to have the steady flow of munitions lessened, as was the case when the Belt Line switchmen walked out at Gary, Ind., without so much as formally announcing their act.

We must change all this by establishing in the minds of unionists the direct connection between a strike here and an American's life in France.

If labor believes there is not sufficient patriotism and loyalty among the employers to grant merited rights, then labor should prove itself the better patriot in bearing with injustice until our country is safe from the dangers that threaten.

Strikes here may mean the death of thousands of their fellow men—and fellow unionists—who are "over there."

We've been doing our best to increase the meat supply by conservation for several months now, and can't see any signs of an increase. Some of these days we'll be defiant and invest in a large, juicy steak at least as large as a postage stamp.

Strange nobody has yet suggested a breakfast-foodless day.

Well, anyhow, there won't be any necessity for spudless days for some time to come.

Better not give too great publicity to the shortage of school books in Germany. There are enough pro-Germans in this country without enlisting the schoolboys.

"What is a dependent?" asks a correspondent. In many cases it is a peg on which to hang an affidavit in a plea for exemption.

Extra precautions should be taken while fishing. You might hook a submarine.

There are entirely too many traitors in this country—and, likewise, too many lamp posts and tree-limbs not in use.

We can't, for the life of us, understand why pretty women insist on flirting with homely men when there are so many of us handsome ones floating around.

If the worst comes, the government, in its extremity, can have our pocketbook. We'll keep the change.

YOUR PART

By O. H. FERNBACK

BEFORE the winter snows shall flee the sun,
UPON the lines from Verdun to the sea
YOUR valiant sons will face the perjured Hun.

LED by the bright-starred flag of Liberty
IN death-defiant charge their steel will ring;
BY shriek of shell undaunted, they'll advance,
EACH man an earnest of the pledge to bring
RELIEF to fettered Belgium—bleeding France—
TO bear the battle's brunt, resolved that Right
YET shall o'erthrow the arrogance of Might.

BUT lest their life-blood vainly they should pour
ON Patria's altar, pour you there your gold!
NOW is the hour! Lend freely from your store,
DENYING self; for as you give the more,
SWEET Peace the sooner may the world enfold.

DOLLARS DRAFTED

Every pocketbook in the country is touched directly or indirectly by the new war taxes.

Five million Americans who have until now been taxed only indirectly by their government, will find the new law directly affecting their incomes. The income tax now reaches down and takes its levy from every married man or woman with an income over $2000, and every unmarried man or woman with an income over $1000. You can not buy any article that has been freighted by rail or water, you can not ride on a train, send a telegram, visit a theatre or ball park, buy a bottle of patent medicine, a baseball bat or any other kind of sporting goods, a tube of tooth-paste or any other toilet article, own an auto, a motorcycle or motor-boat, draw a time draft, buy a bond or share of stock, or send in a proxy for an election, without paying tribute to Uncle Sam. From the cradle to the grave most of man's activities will now be taxed. Baby's first dash of talcum powder, under the 2 per cent manufacturers' tax on cosmetics, will help the government carry on the war, and after death the federal collectors will be on hand to get the inheritance tax, at advances on the present rate of from 1 per cent on $50,000 to 10 per cent on $1,000,000.

New income and war-excess profits taxes are based on income of the 1917 calendar year and payable before March 31, 1918.

All stamp taxes, including those on parcel-post packages, will become effective December 1st. Amusement admissions and taxes on club dues will go into effect November 1st, as will taxes on freight and passenger transportation, sleeping-car, drawing-room and steamship berths; pipe-line transportation; insurance policies, and telegraph and telephone messages costing 15 cents or more.

Even drowning one's tax troubles in drink or sending them up in smoke will cost more, for levies are increased on all kinds of drinks and on tobacco. The new rate on whisky is $2.10 per gallon and beer $2.50 a barrel.

even grape-juice will be taxed a cent a gallon.

Here is the new income tax schedule. Charge it to the Kaiser:

COMMUNITY GARDEN

ONE THOUSAND EMPLOYEES
LEARN GARDENING ON VA-CANT FACTORY LAND.

Garden produce, estimated to be worth $10,000, is being grown on a sixty-acre tract of factory land at Schenectady, N. Y. The land is held by the General Electric Company for future expansion, and is being farmed by more than one thousand of its employees. Last year at this time the same area of fertile river bottom soil was yielding only weeds and wire grass. The transformation was brought about by the operation of a carefully thought out plan of "war gardening" which the company has worked out with great benefit to its employees, and also with a corresponding improvement in the appearance of the factory surroundings.

The land was first plowed and harrowed with a gas tractor which the company purchased, and was then cut up into 1000 plots 25 by 75 feet. The plots were staked out with allowance for streets and avenues in between, so that when the work was completed the entire tract resembled a vast real estate development. As soon as the preparations were completed the 22,000 employees of the local plant of the company were invited to step in and plant gardens with packets of seed supplied by the company along with the free use of the plots.

1500 Apply.

The scheme met with hearty response. Hundreds of workmen applied for garden plots, and when they were all counted it was found that 1500 workmen had applied for the 1000 plots available. The gardens were assigned in the order in which the applications were received and a numbered badge was presented to each successful applicant. These badges served as a means of showing the particular plot assigned and also as a permit of admittance to the grounds, which were under the supervision of an attendant at all times.

Realizing that garden enthusiasm sometimes wanes before the produce has been harvested, and that a plot started under the most promising conditions may be neglected and grow up in weeds unless the gardener is kept on his mettle, the plots were all assigned with the understanding that they might be reassigned if they were not well cultivated and cared for. Everything connected with the gardening plan was worked out as definitely in advance as any problem in manufacturing or transportation is solved by the company's engineers in its shops. Gardening bulletins were supplied to the amateur horticulturists. Even a seed house was built to house the seeds, supplies and implements used by the workers.

What to plant on the plot was left very largely to the men themselves. They have been encouraged, however, to plant only those things which fit in well with an intensive scheme of cultivation and which promise the maximum return from the minimum of land area. The potato is undoubtedly the most popular vegetable, and in some instances the entire plot is given over to it. Cabbage enough to now round out into perfect heads, make many barrels of sauerkraut is and it probably occupies a place of second importance, while beans claim the third place in total acreage.

Every Occupation.

The gardeners represent practically every office and shop in the General Electric plant. Molders from the foundry, patternmakers, engineers, highly trained technical men, and day laborers till the land together and profit mutually from the exchange of experiences in garden culture. Very few of the plots are under the cultivation of skilled horticulturists, but it was not an unusual sight in the early stages of the gardening plan to find a worker teaching another how to do his tract.

An interesting study in human nature may be made from these thousand different planted areas, for each man reflects to a remarkable degree the character and kind of work in which the employee is engaged. One worker remarked that one of the company's technical engineers had staked his plot out in a precise mathematical plan, planting a definite number of beans in each hill, and possibly calculating the yield in produce by means of a slide rule. Scores of the gardens are farmed by employees of foreign birth, and some of the best tracts show the utmost painstaking care and attention.

Results Apparent in Other Places.

Few community gardens in the country are as extensive and as successful as this one at Schenectady, and on this account the plots have been inspected by many visitors representing other localities and concerns. All of them have shown keen interest in the gardens and some have expressed a desire to try the scheme in other communities. Agricultural specialists from Cornell have inspected the land and declared it to be as fertile and productive ground as can be found in the state of New York.

The results of the gardening scheme, which was carried out under the direction of the Department of Welfare for employees, is not all apparent from inspecting the garden plots, for many of the gardeners also cultivate their own back yards or lease vacant real estate for planting purposes in various parts of the city.

SHOOT YOUR DOLLARS

All may not go to the trenches. And yet to an American citizen nothing could be more distressing than the thought of not serving his country at this time. The Liberty Loan offers to every individual an opportunity of being of some assistance—the privilege of playing a part. The firing line is no farther than the nearest bank. To buy a Liberty Bond is to contribute directly, specifically, effectively toward America's victory. To buy a Liberty Bond is to deliver a more effective blow in defense of American rights and of the larger freedom. Every dollar you so invest is a shot at militarism.

Liberty! Men fight and die for it, sacrifice every penny of worldly wealth for it. But in Liberty Bonds Uncle Sam seeks no gratuity and asks no sacrifice. He offers you an investment that will pay you 4 per cent interest. Your money, so invested, will be used to win the war, and your country returns you your money—with 4 per cent.

It is to prove that we are a free nation that we are at war with Germany. It is to live the kind of lives we have determined to live, to have the kind of institutions we desire, without restraint or dictation of Prussian autocracy that we are at war with Germany. It is because Germany made war on us that we are at war with Germany. We were patient and long enduring while Germany committed hostile acts against us for over two years, plotting to confess that our only rights were those Germany would allow us to have or to stand forth boldly, free people forced to fight for a righteous cause, and join with the other liberty-loving nations of the earth to end the reign of brutality, despotism and autocracy. We could only make one choice. We could not "choose the path of submission and suffer the most sacred rights of our nation to be ignored or violated."

For us not to win this war will mean that every landmark of liberty has been destroyed; that all in vain have been the Anglo-Saxon struggles for free institutions and liberty; that the Magna Charta and the Declaration of Independence were not written with enduring words; that the French

FRATERNAL BROTHERHOOD NOTES.

The Fraternal Brotherhood, which was twenty-one years old St. Patrick's day, March 17, 1917, has raised a large patriotic war fund by assessing each member one dollar. This fund is for the purpose of helping to care for the dependents of soldiers and sailors who are members.

Many lodges of the Brotherhood have invested their surplus funds in Liberty Bonds. The supreme lodge headed the list with a $20,000 purchase.

The Brotherhood has paid out in benefits to members and their families more than $4,900,000—a tidy sum that has kept the wolf from many a worthy door.

Ford
THE UNIVERSAL CAR

In busy cities or the country road, the Ford is a favorite over the whole motor field. There are strong reasons why half the buyers of America demand Ford cars. They have proved their worth under the most trying conditions in all parts of the world. People buy Ford cars because they know what they have done and what they will do. They have become one of the everyday necessities. Touring Car $360, Runabout $345, Coupelet $505, Town Car $595, Sedan $645, all f. o. b. Detroit. On display and for sale by

JIM DALE.

(By Ellis Parker Butler of the Vigilantes.)

Young Jimmy Dale, across our street,
Is just a gawky lad,
He grew so fast, the doctors said,
His heart was mighty bad;

They wouldn't let him do much work
Or any hearty play
But, just the same, they drafted Jim,
And Jim has gone away.

Jim was a sort of great, big kid
And fooling all the while,
So, when they ordered him to camp,
He went there with a smile.

Jim Dale is in the army now,
Lank legs, bum heart and all,
To fight like other drafted men
That got the country's call.

God, yes, Jim's heart may drop him dead

Or he may live to be Shot all to pieces "over there"—
What odds to you or me?

By thunder! it's these odds to you!—
If kids like Jim can go,
With smiles, to fight our wars for us
We can put up the dough.

If we can buy a bond or two
And don't, while Jim, poor cuss,
Goes smiling off to death or wounds—
Then hell's too good for us!

FILE THREE.

This vivid bit of Browningesque narrative we clip from the "Line-O-Type" column of the Chicago Daily Tribune. Modest, indeed, is the poet who, having written so distinguished a poem, indicates his identity only by initials.

By P. S. W.

[General Pershing stopped in his walk, turned sharply, and faced File Three.]—London Dispatch.]

File Three stood motionless and pale, Of nameless pedigree; One of a hundred on detail— But would I had been he!

In years a youth, but worn and old, With face of ivory; Upon his sleeve two strands of gold— Oh, would I had been he!

The General passed down the line, And walked right rapidly, But saw those threads and knew the sign— Ah, had I been File Three.

"Twice wounded? Tell me where you were."

The man of stars asked he. "Givenchy and Lavenze, sir"— Oh, where was I, File Three.

Then crisply cloth the General: "You are a man, File Three." And Tommy's heart held carnival— God, would I had been he!

STOLEN HUMOR

A Pittsburg Jest.

It was the first week that the Jinkses, who had fallen heir to considerable property, had been in their new home. Mrs. Jinks was giving a dinner party with the fond hope that from this occasion she would be fairly launched in society. "Lena," said Mrs. Jinks to her new cook, "be sure to mash the peas thoroughly tonight."

"What, ma'am," exclaimed the amazed cook, "Mash the peas?" "Yes, that is what I said, Lena, mash the peas," repeated the mistress. "It makes Mr. Jinks very nervous at dinner to have them roll off his knife."—Pittsburg Chronicle Telegraph.
